FROM WASHINGTON.

Permanent Republican Headquarters at the Capital.

RICH MINERAL LANDS IN MINNESOTA

To be Reserved by the Government Except for Mineral Entry—The New Tariff Bill—Passed a Satisfactory Examination.

To be Permanently Established at the National Capital.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Mr. Joseph Manley, of Maine, dropped into the city and left for New York Monday night. During his stay in Washington he consulted with some of the party leaders here, and as a result of the conference it was decided to establish permanent headquarters for the republican national committee here. As Mr. Carter, the chairman, is detained in Montana by his business affairs, the work at headquarters will be under Mr. Manley's personal supervision. While Gen. Harrison held the office of president of the United States he repeatedly urged the leaders of the party to adopt the Indiana plan of permanent headquarters at the capital. The plan has worked so well locally that he believed it would be even more successful if applied to the field of national politics. For some reason President Harrison's suggestions were not adopted, but now the clever men of the party believe that the time has come when it should be.

During the sessions of congress Mr. Manley will have the advice and cooperation of the republican members of congress, and he will at all times be in communication with the state and county committeemen of the various states. It will be the purpose of the committee to begin at the outset a campaign of education, which will include not only the sending of documents to republicans throughout the country, but furnishing to the small country party leaders letters and other information. The national committee will also, through Mr. Manley, cooperate with the republican congressional committee during the campaign of next year and with the league of republican clubs, of which Mr. J. S. Clarkson is president.

The meeting of the executive committee of the national committee will be held next month, but whether in New York or Washington has not been determined. At that meeting an endeavor will be made to formulate a plan looking to a decreased representation from the southern states at future national conventions. Some of the republican leaders feel that the southern delegates now wield an influence to which they are not entitled. It will be argued at the meeting of the executive committee that the representation from such of the southern states as are hopelessly democratic—states, for example, that can by no possibility give their electoral votes to a republican candidate for president—shall be reduced to two delegates each. In border states, like Missouri, where the republicans sometimes control several congressional districts, the full representation will be allowed.

If the executive committee are influenced by these arguments and adopt a resolution in keeping with them, their action will not be conclusive, but will have to be passed upon at the next meeting of the full committee, where it will no doubt be fiercely combatted by the committeemen from the states affected.

Minnesota Mineral Lands.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—A. L. Gray, a special agent of the general land office, who in October last was sent to the Rainy Lake region in Minnesota to examine into the mineral character of the lands, has made his report to the commissioner. His conclusion is: "That the country in the vicinity of Rainy Lake is distinctly a mineral country, valuable only for the minerals and unfit for any other purpose whatever."

Gold is the chief mineral found, although he learned that silver was also found to some extent. He, therefore, recommends that township 71, north of ranges 20, 21, 22, 23 and 24 west, Minnesota, be reserved except for mineral entry, until a careful examination of each particular tract can be made and officially classified.

The New Tariff Bill.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Every republican member of the ways and means committee received a communication yesterday morning signed by Chairman Wilson. It invited each member's attendance at the capital at 11 o'clock on Monday next, at which time the tariff bill, upon which the majority members of the committee have been working, will be laid before the full committee.

The committee is still engaged in considering the various tariff schedules. No conclusion has been reached regarding the income tax.

Passed a Satisfactory Examination.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Commodore and Acting Rear Admiral Skerrett, who sailed from San Francisco yesterday to assume command of the Atlantic naval station, passed a satisfactory examination for promotion to the actual rank of rear admiral, and will receive the advancement when Admiral Balthaz returns in January.

BRECKINRIDGE DOOMED.

The Only Question Remaining Being as to Who Shall Succeed Him.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 22.—The Evening Times' Frankfort (Ky.) correspondent says: Col. W. C. P. Breckinridge can hardly be re-elected to congress from the Ashland district. When Miss Pollard brought suit against the congressman a gallant ex-confederate, who never forsakes a friend, attempted to come to his rescue. "I am his friend," said he, "but he can no more be re-elected than can the people of this district afford to compromise themselves by re-electing him."

On the river excursion given to the river and harbor commission up the Kentucky river a few days ago the extreme background into which Col. Breckinridge was in a manner forced was not only not imaginary, but so real that it was in painful contrast with the prominence he would have held on any such occasion a few years ago.

Even if every man and voter in the district could condone the circumstances—be they sins or misfortunes—of Col. Breckinridge, the sentiment of the women alone is enough to defeat him. Col. Breckinridge has been unfortunate in being or seeming to be the real appointing power in this revenue district. There are already more than a thousand disappointed applicants who not only blame him for their failure to "land," but propose to fight him on the grounds that they, "under all the circumstances," would "have hated to have been compelled to support him anyhow."

It is said that if the vote was taken in Franklin county to-day Breckinridge would not get one in ten. The same condition of affairs is reported by those who come from Bourbon, from Owen, from Henry and from Scott.

But as to who is to defeat him, that is a question about which the politicians and public men differ. It is generally conceded that only Lexington man would be precluded from running. The talk here is, therefore, all about Lockhart, of Bourbon; Owen, of Scott; Carroll, of Henry; Settle, of Owen, and Hines, of Franklin. The greatest number seem to agree that at present Lockhart, of Paris, is the strongest man.

"UNCLE JERRY" SLEEPS.

Sudden and Unexpected Death of Gen. Rusk.

VINOQA, Wis., Nov. 22.—This little city was thrown into great excitement yesterday morning by the sudden and unexpected announcement that Gen. Rusk was dead. The reports since Saturday had been so encouraging that all had begun to feel that the worst was really over and that the ex-secretary was to be spared for future years of usefulness. The community felt relieved from the shadow that had hung over it the past week and the friends of the general looked cheerful and happy. The eldest son, L. J. Rusk, went home Monday. Blaine Rusk drove into the city in the evening and reported his father still improving. Dr. Gott remained with the patient until 9 o'clock yesterday morning when the general turned to him and said: "Doctor, I am feeling so well you might as well lay down and get some rest." Whereupon the doctor laid down and went to sleep. Not an unfavorable symptom manifested itself at that time. This was the last the doctor knew until he was called to the bedside about 7:30 o'clock and found the general dying. He placed him in an easy position and death resulted in a few minutes. Carriages were hurrying to and fro all day yesterday, carrying friends and relatives to the grief-stricken home. The funeral, as announced, will take place Friday afternoon.

ECHOES FROM THE STORM.

Vessels Wrecked and Lives Lost in the North Sea.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—A dispatch from Semvig, Denmark, reports that many fishing boats were lost in the storm in that vicinity, and forty-eight persons were drowned. The Swedish bark Elm founded in the North sea Sunday. Three of her crew were drowned.

The cargo of the American bark C. Bena, wrecked off Denmark, will probably be saved. Capt. Mountford and five of the crew were drowned.

The British steamers Beacon Light and Helvia, at Shield's Light, were badly used up by the gale.

The Sunderland steamers Lumley and Olive, with their crews of about twenty persons each, are believed to have been lost in the storm.

Vessels are arriving hourly at North sea ports with additional tales of disaster and death, adding greatly to the losses already reported.

WEDNESDAY EVEN. NOV. 22, 1893.

GEN. JOHN C. BLACK was mentioned in connection with the mayoralty of Chicago. "Only this and nothing more."

DORSEY PATTON, of Chicago, is a Republican whose enthusiasm, when let loose, never stops for any obstacle but sweeps right along like a flood. At the present writing he is in favor of Swift for mayor, and at a meeting of the Swift majority the other night, to see where they were "at," Dorsey let her go as follows:
"The nomination of Geo. B. Swift means Chicago redeemed, and the state redeemed. It means Henry Wolf or anybody else for state treasurer by $50,000.
It means McKinley for president in '96.
It means that we will reclaim the legislature and elect a United States Senator.
I tell you, by the time the wind has blown through the cotton breeches of the idle workmen this winter everybody will be for Swift."

The committee that wanted upon President Harrison to ask him to appoint Judge Walter Q. Gresham to the supreme bench could not exactly understand why the president should say that he would be pleased to nominate Mr.
Gresham for the position, but that he did not consider that Judge Gresham had the qualifications necessary to fit him for so important a place. The members of that committee can now see that President Harrison knew what he was talking about. The president did not propose to jeopardize the good opinion of the people as to his judgment in making his appointments. Mr. Cleveland was not so fortunate.

SPEAKING of Secretary Gresham's course in the Hawaiian affair, the Chicago Inter-Ocean, which has said many good things about him, offers him the following good bit of advice:

It will be well for Secretary Gresham if he profit by this humiliation. It should serve as a warning against the peril of taking personal animosity as his pole star. It is bad enough for one to be led by such a motive into an abandonment of his party and the surrender of lifelong political ties, but it is infinitely worse and more disastrous to be controlled by it in the discharge of a great public trust. The people care little for the personal relations between Walter Q. Gresham and Benjamin Harrison, and every citizen has a right to vote as he pleases, but when it comes to basing an important international policy upon personal animosity there is no palliation for it. If Secretary Gresham does not wish to live in American history as worse than a failure he will say to that personal antimosity of his, "Get the behind me, Saturn."

Look Out.

Everything points to the restoration of the Republican party to power as rapidly as the people can bring that event about at the polls. The Democratic leaders see this, as well as other people, and will do all in their power to divert the people from that intention.

How will they do it? By howling as they did in 1892, 1890 and again in 1893, "the tariff is a tax which enriches the few at the expense of the many." No.
Will they again attempt to make the workmen of the country believe that their employers are not making a fair divide with them? No. The usefulness of these demagogical utterances has departed. Instead of well-employed labor, as was the case in 1892, we have, as a result of the Democratic threat to tear up the tariff, idle mills, idle workmen, reduced wages and reduced prices of farm products; and in face of such conditions these old rallying cries would be mockery.

Then what will they do? Let us see?
The result of the recent election brings Governor McKinley, the so-called author of the so-called McKinley tariff law, to the front as the people's choice for president; and the opposition will do all in its power to defeat his nomination by throwing out him that somebody is trying to force him upon the country because of his high protective tariff views; and in a little while they will be telling the people that McKinley is objectionable to a large number of people in the party on that account, in the hope of dis-organizing the party.

It is conceded by all who know anything about the operations of that law that it built more factories and stimulated the employment of more workmen, on American soil, than any tariff law ever enacted, and at the same time broke up more foreign trusts that were robbing the American people, because they controlled the market on certain products than any other law of the kind.
That law was the outcome of the judgment of the brightest minds in the Republican party. It had the votes and endorsement of President Harrison, John Sherman, Tom Reed, McKinley and every other Republican who might be available presidential timber and the recent elections show that the people have come to regard it as the best possible law, and have voted in favor of it as against the dogmas and sophistries of the party in power; and it matters not who the nominee of the Republican party may be, the party will, of its own consent stand or fall on the principles of that law in the next presidential election. If the party desired to escape from it, it could not for the opposition would force them to it if the party desired to escape from it.
This is the logic of the situation, and from it the shrewd observer will see the hypocrisy of the opposition leaders in their efforts to disorganize the party on McKinley's availability and probable candidacy.

An example of this plan may be seen in the hints thrown out in an editorial in the junior Democratic organ, the Herald-Examiner, of this city. It says:

All these things go to show unmistakably that the logical candidate in 1896 is Mr. McKinley. Notwithstanding all this the chances are that he will not be nominated. The men who figure for party success think that the chances of other men would be better. They have not forgotten 1890 and 1892. They think that these are lessons to be remembered.
McKinley's boom was started about three years too soon, and in three years of the great things may happen.
In the Republican party are a great many men who believe in moderate protection but do not believe in the McKinley idea.

Thus we see the effort to disorganize the party along the lines suggested. Republicans want to keep their eyes open to these insidious efforts to induce Republicans to deal in "ifs" and "buts." We do not know whether McKinley will be the nominee of the party or not. We believe he will be nominated, but whether he is or not we know that from a Democratic standpoint, he is the most dangerous man the Democrats are liable to have to confront in 1896, for the very good reason that he swept the state of Ohio two weeks ago on a square tariff issue to the tune of 51,000 plurality, with all the force of a Democratic administration against him, and can sweep the country in 1896 on the same issue. We repeat, Republicans look out for these insidious foes who are trying to avoid the candidacy of McKinley by sowing tares in your best wheat.

ON TRIAL.

That's a good way to buy a medicine, but it's a pretty hard condition under which to sell it. Perhaps you've noticed that the ordinary hit or miss medicine doesn't attempt it.

The only medicine of its kind so remarkable in its effects that it can be sold on this plan is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. As a blood-cleanser, strength-restorer, and fresh-builder, there's nothing like it known to medical science. In every disease where the fault is in the liver or the blood, as Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Biliousness, and the most stubborn Skin, Scalp, and Scrofulous affections, it is guaranteed in every case to benefit or cure, or you have your money back.

To every sufferer from Catarrh, no matter how bad the case or of how long standing, the proprietors of Dr. Sago's Catarrh Remedy say this: "If we can't cure it, perfectly and permanently, we'll pay you $500 in cash." Sold by all druggists.

Seventy-eight barbers enlisted in the United States army last season. They should do a great deal of damage in the face of the enemy.

Electric Bitters.
This remedy is becoming so well known and so popular as to have no special mention. All who have used Electric Bitters sing the same song of praise. A pure medicine does not exist and it is guaranteed to do all that is claimed.
Electric Bitters will cure all diseases of the Liver and Kidneys, will remove Pimples, Boils, Salt Rheum and other affections caused by impure blood. Will drive Malaria from the system and prevent as well as cure all Malarial fevers.
For cure of Headache, Constipation and indigestion try Electric Bitters—Entire satisfaction guaranteed, or money refunded.—Price 50 cts. and $1.00 per bottle. At King & Wood Drug Store, etc.

Remembrance of the merits of DeWitt's Little Early Bower is a misfortune. These little pills regulate the liver, cure headache, dyspepsia, bad breath, constipation and biliousness. C. H. Dawes

A TERRIBLE CRIME

Terribly and Promptly Punished by a Mob.

A BRUTE HANGED TO A STAIR RAILING

By a Determined Crowd After a Desperate Fight With the Officers Having Him in Charge—A Vain Appeal.

OTTUMWA, Ia., Nov. 22.—An excited and angry mob hung Fred Gustavson to the stair railing of Justice Truitt's court room at 9:30 yesterday afternoon. Gustavson outraged the little 4-year-old daughter of Jonas Sax, about 10 o'clock Monday night. The brute was promptly arrested shortly after committing the crime and lodged in jail. Yesterday morning he was taken to the Sax house and positively identified by the little girl and a companion who was enticed to a room together with the little Sax girl by the human fiend, but was permitted to leave after getting inside the room.

He kept the little Sax child, and by the foulest, most dastardly means succeeded in his purpose. After he had accomplished his purpose he turned the little girl out, and she succeeded in reaching home in her terrible condition and related her experience to her parents. Her father went to police headquarters and soon Capt. Hannon had Gustavson behind the bars of the county jail. At 2 o'clock yesterday he was taken quietly to Justice Truitt's office for arraignment. The news spread rapidly along Main street that the man was in Truitt's court, and in less than twenty minutes a crowd of perhaps a thousand was surging around the stairway, trying to get at the prisoner.

The mother of the little girl succeeded in getting to the top and from the platform in the front of the court room, swung a rope and, together with her aged father, appealed to the crowd below to hang him. Sheriff McIntyre and Mayor K. Force appealed to the crowd, but all in vain. The crowd was for revenge swift and certain.

A number of men succeeded in gaining admission to the court room, and a terrible fight ensued between the mob and the officers. The mob succeeded in getting the rope around the man's neck, and in a very few seconds he was dangling from the railing of the stairs. He was left hanging about ten minutes, when the rope broke, letting him fall to the pavement. The lifeless body was quickly picked up by the officers and put in a wagon and taken to the jail, with the mob running pell-mell in that direction. At the jail it required the report of a committee to satisfy the people around the jail that the man was dead. After this the mob dispersed.

The little child is in a precarious condition, and the chances of life are greatly against her. Everything was as quiet last night as though such a terrible affair had never happened.

SKERRETT CORROBORATED

By Ex-Secretary of the Navy Tracy—The Letter Interviewed.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—In an interview to-day ex-Secretary of the Navy Tracy said that he remembered that he had an interview with Admiral Skerrett just before the late Minister Stevens sailed for Honolulu, but he does not recollect using the exact language which Skerrett attributes to him. Mr. Tracy said: "I undoubtedly told him that there was a sentiment in the United States which strongly favored the bringing about of closer relations between Hawaii and the United States."

"Was there," the reporter asked, "at the time of this interview, any information in your possession or before President Harrison's cabinet, which indicated that a revolution in Hawaii was impending?"

"Absolutely nothing," the general replied.

"The revolution, when it occurred, came as a thunder clap to the administration. I had reason to believe, however, that there was a strong desire on the part of the better elements in the islands for more intimate relations with this country, and further, that there was a reciprocal feeling in this country, which the administration perceived and shared. I derived my impression on this latter point mainly from Mr. Blaine himself."

"I wish to add that I do not believe that the provisional government was established by the aid of the troops from the United States ship Boston or that the United States are in any degree responsible for the overthrow of the Queen."

"When were the marines sent ashore—before or after the provisional government had crystallized?" was asked.

"It was after the provisional government had been proclaimed and had been recognized."

"By Minister Stevens?"

Gen. Tracy then continued: "It was, and is my feeling, and that of Mr. Blaine, that American influence must be predominant in Hawaii."

Again Postponed.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22.—The jury-bringing cases of Frank McManus and W. J. Dunn were again continued yesterday morning until Thursday noon by consent, the court and District Attorney Barnes being engaged in the trial of Martin O'Neil, charged with the murder of Mrs. Kate Griffes last June.

Another Internal Machine Exploded in Valencia.

MADRID, Nov. 22.—A petard, inclosed in a copper cylinder, was exploded in Valencia Monday, doing considerable damage. The continuance of such outrages has caused dismay among the populace of Valencia. The government officials have ordered the arrest of all persons known to be anarchists.

A NOTABLE WEDDING.

Celebration of the Stevenson-Davis Nuptials—Distinguished People Present.

The marriage of Lewis G. Stevenson, son of Vice-President and Mrs. Adlai E. Stevenson, and Miss Helen Louise Davis, second daughter of the Hon. W. O. Davis, proprietor and editor of the Bloomington Pantagraph, occurred last evening in the Second Presbyterian Church at Bloomington, the Rev. Dr. Mueller, pastor of the Unitarian Church, officiating. The ceremony was a modified form of the Episcopal Church observed by the Unitarian Church. As the couple stood before Pastor Mueller he said: "Who gives this bride?" Editor Davis, the father of the young lady, arose from his seat and responded "I do." The union was then made, and Pastor Kane gave an appropriate prayer. The Lord's Prayer was repeated by the bride party, the congregation joining, and then as Mendelssohn's wedding march filled the auditorium the new husband and wife, followed by their respective parents and relatives and the attendants and invited guests, left the church. The groom and bride went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Davis, and there a reception was held. The home was prettily arranged for the event. The invitations for the reception were for four hundred people. The out-of-town guests who graced the event were:

CITY OBSERVATIONS.

BEFORE Boston was known as "Beantown" its pet appellation was "Pumpkinshire." It is so given in a slang dictionary of 1783.

But one-third of the bodies cremated by a New York company last year were natives of America. Half of the number were Germans.

A CORRESPONDENT of the New York Tribune suggests the holding of a great world's fair at New York in 1900 to celebrate the closing of the nineteenth century.

"One who has occasion to travel much upon ferry boats," said a New York resident, "cannot fail to be impressed by the constant care which the employees exercise in getting on and off boats. They take no chances."

New York is converting its famous old Battery into a great aquarium. The legislature appropriated $150,000 for the purpose. This old site was first a fortification, then a place of amusement with the name of Castle Garden, and then an immigrant depot.

FOREIGN AGRICULTURE.

The geranium growers of France and Algeria are feeling the competition from distillers in Reunion, where the output is increasing very rapidly, every steamer arriving at Marseilles bringing consignments of geranium oil.

In Manitoba, Canada, the acres planted to wheat this year is 1,000,000 acres, as against $75,000 acres last year. The increase is largely accounted for by the continual arrival of new settlers from Great Britain and elsewhere.

A CONSIDERABLE portion of the area planted to sugar beets in France will give but a low agricultural yield. In Russia the prospects for a beet sugar crop are good, but in other European countries the beets have suffered from want of rain.

The wool clip of the 1892-93 season, in Argentina, was 320,000 bales, as against 351,000 bales in the preceding year, a decrease of more than four per cent. Though the lambing turned out well, the wool lacked its usual full and healthy growth.

DAIRY AND STOCK NOTES.

Wind twenty degrees below zero is not a good milk producing feed.

Get-expired butter was never under obligation to dirty pans and churn for its existence.

Why does not some enterprising breeder make a specialty of intelligence in horses, as has been done in the case of the dog with marvelous results. There would be money in the thing.

The nippy air makes the horses frisky! After the confinement of the stable they want to go. If a rein should break their going might be serious. Perhaps the sewing of some of the splices has begun to give way. Better see about it.

Brake the horse up to the hitching post with his head from the wind. He will not get so cold as if his head is toward the wind, and he will stand better. The horse will stand more quietly while you are hitching him if his head is from the wind.

WHY IS IT?

Do Superstitious Fancies Prevent Secretary Carlisle Attending a Banquet?

Some comment has been caused by the fact that Secretary Carlisle declined to attend the annual banquet of the Chamber of Commerce at Delmonico's, New York, last night. It will be remembered that a few years ago the late William Windom, then Secretary of the Treasury, was fatally stricken with paralysis while attending a banquet of the same organization, and it is surmised by many that Secretary Carlisle was just superstitious enough to keep away on that account.

After a Divorce.

In the circuit clerk's office to-day William A. Rogers filed a bill for divorce from his wife, Barbara Rogers, nee Roese. The couple were married at Kansas City, Mo., August 25, 1891. William alleges desertion and adultery on the part of Barbara.
